

HOLD LINE IN FACE OF AN ATTACK

FRENCH EVEN MAKE AN ADVANCE AND CAPTURE ST. AGNAN FROM THE HUN INVADERS AFTER A HARD FIGHTING.

LOSS IS MOST TERRIBLE

British Line Merely Retreats in One Place Along Its Entire Front—Germans Pour Vast Hosts into Battle Front.

Paris, Apr. 5.—The French captured St. Agnan and held it against all assaults. St. Agnan is southeast of Grivegness. It is in the north the French withdrew their position to West Castel. They threw back the Germans from Arriere Cour Wood west of Maily Rameval.

Striking a position south of the Somme, near Amiens, the German offensive with heavy force in desperate fighting with the French and British. The enemy has been able to make only slight gains in isolated points, being repulsed with great loss everywhere. How well the valiant Franco-British force withstood the enemy onslaught is shown by the fact that on a front of five miles the Germans used more than one hundred thousand men.

Field Marshall Haig's center and right held its ground against the heavy attacks with the loss of a few miles around Amiens, south of the Somme, and about twelve miles directly east of Amiens.

Hard Fighting. Between the Aves and Luce the French and Germans contested the ground bitterly. The enemy was determined to break through and used his mass of infantry in ten reckless assaults, the French moving the German down with artillery fire. On either side of Moullet, twelve miles southeast of Amiens, the French repulsed several hundred yards the German advance, the heights around which are still held by the French.

South of Aves. South of the Aves the heaviest fighting centered on Grivegness. General Pettin's men held stubbornly to their position despite repeated efforts by German infantry, and then in counter-attacks advanced their own line into the enemy position. Between Montdidier and Laigrie, where the German line bends, the heavy artillery bombardment which began early this week continued violently. The strength of the British line north of the Somme, where the Germans have not been able to push in ten days, was shown by furious enemy attacks at Albert, Thursday. Time and again the Germans have tried to advance from Albert, only to be repulsed.

Another sector of the front has been taken over by American troops and it is announced they now hold positions on the heights of the Meuse south of Verdun. This position is almost directly north of the American sector northwest of Toul and has been the scene of many activities recently. It joins the Verdun front and the enemy already has moved a listening post on the new sector but the raiders were unable to advance further in the face of strong American fire.

Concentrate Troops. Germans concentrated troops early this morning near Albert. The war office announced that the British took them under their fire in the neighborhood of Hargny and in the Scarpe valley. There was active artillery fire during the night.

Pressed Back. The British have been pressed back a short distance on a front east of Attennes, the war office announced.

The Germans hurled large bodies of troops against the British between Luce and Somme River, making repeated assaults. The heaviest part, the enemy was thrown back with losses.

TRIBUTE PAID TO AMERICAN AVIATORS

London, April 5.—A tribute to American aviators with the British army in France who are "numerous and always brilliant," is paid by the correspondent of the Daily News. In one sector of the battle front the British used 500 machines in the air at one time. The use of machine guns on enemy troops, guns, and transports by low flying machines has been carried to a new stage beyond anything in previous experience.

PHILIPP CALLS ON CITIZENS OF STATE TO SHOW PATRIOTISM

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., April 5.—I call upon the citizens of this state to again prove their patriotism by purchasing the amount set aside for us as our portion of the Liberty loan. This is the most of a proclamation issued by Gov. Philipp Thursday evening, calling upon the people of the state to buy Liberty bonds to appreciate that all citizens should appreciate that our country is engaged in a serious war and that it is necessary to raise a large army," says Gov. Philipp in his proclamation. "We are calling the flower of our young manhood to the colors to meet this requirement. In order to make our soldiers effective we must give them the proper equipment. They require food and equipment in fact all things that are necessary to properly maintain a soldier in the field. The expenditures of the government for these purposes are necessarily large.

Saturday, April 6th, marks the first anniversary of our country's participation in the war. Our government finds it necessary to again call upon the people for their co-operation in the purchasing of bonds, and is offering the third Liberty loan of three billion dollars, the bonds to bear interest at the rate of four and one-quarter percent per annum.

"I call upon the citizens of this state to again prove their patriotism by purchasing the amount set aside for us as our portion of this loan. The money invested in these bonds is in no sense a gift to the government. It is an investment. The security given is the property of the citizen. We must give the soldiers who have gone to France and those who are yet to go the assurance that they will receive the united support of their countrymen and that we stand ready to make any sacrifice that is necessary for their encouragement. The government will be made in all public places where people assemble, and it will be the duty of every citizen to know that 'Patriotic Day' and that ministers call the attention of their respective congregations to this call for the cause of the war and urge the people to respond in a generous manner."

ANOTHER CALL FOR DRAFT ARMY SOON

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, April 5.—Orders for the mobilization of the first large number of men for the second draft will go out soon. Fifteen thousand men of the second draft are now mobilizing and the April call about 10,000 men. The mobilization of the second draft will represent probably more than the mobilization of the first draft. The mobilization of the second draft will be called during the remaining nine months of the year. To call the 800,000 in August and September would mobilize them at about a rate of 90,000 a month. However, there is no assurance that this will be a fixed figure because the flow of men will be determined by the needs of the army in France. As General Pershing may call for specially qualified troops an average of 90,000 a month may be much exceeded or decreased.

He had killed his father-in-law, with strong, repeated blows over the head with some heavy instrument.

Robert Bennet, who was sentenced to Waupun at the age of eighteen years, on the charge of murder in the first degree, is also asking for a pardon. Dec. 3, 1912, Bennett's mother, Mrs. Joseph Bennett, of Superior, is making the application of the ground that the boy's mental condition had been greatly improved and that he wishes to join the army and go to France.

The other applications are that of John Joyce, whose petition is approved by Judge Quinn. Joyce was sentenced for three years in state prison by the circuit court of Forest county, Dec. 18, 1912, for the crime of burglary. Joyce was a station agent, and the crime for which he was convicted was misappropriating household property belonging to the railroad. Joyce had been married and has a boy, ten and eleven years old. MINERS' MOB HANG ALLEN FOR SPEECH

COLLINSVILLE, ILLINOIS. THE SCENE OF VIOLENT ATTACK UPON PRO-GERMAN SPEAKER EARLY THIS MORNING.

TREASON IS CHARGED

"Judge Louch" Held Court and Took Suspect from Protection of Police Officers and Swung Him to Limb of a Tree.

Collinsville, Ill., April 4.—Robert P. Prager, forty-five years old, German born, after twice escaping mob violence was hanged to a tree shortly after midnight by a mob of 350 persons who declared he had made disloyal utterances. He was dragged from the basement of the city hall where he had been hiding, through the main streets of the city to a point one mile west, and there his body was found this morning dangling to the limb of a tree.

Prager was a coal miner and yesterday was in Morrisville, Ill., where he addressed miners on socialism. During his talk he is said to have made remarks derogatory to President Wilson. The angered miners threatened to do him bodily harm, but he escaped to Collinsville, his home. Some miners followed him and a crowd soon gathered. Prager was taken from his home and fed barefooted through the streets waving an American flag. The police, fearing violence, took him to the city hall. Later the mob gathered in front of the hall and demanded the man. The small force of police and deputies had been ordered and Prager was found hiding.

The crowd threatened to shoot if officers approached. One mile west of the city the rope by which Prager was hanged was thrown over the limb of a tree. The man was asked if he had anything to say. The answer was to drop to his knees and with his arms crossed to pray in German. He was then pulled into the air and allowed to hang. The police in a statement issued early today declared they were only four in number and were unable to cope with the mob. They also said Prager, while in their custody, had stated he was a registered enemy alien, that he was a socialist and a communist. He had written his first naturalization papers and hoped to become an American citizen. Collinsville is twelve miles east of St. Louis.

Before the rope was placed about his neck Prager wrote the following note in German:

Dear parents: Carl Henry Prager, Dresden, Germany. I must on this, the fourth day of April, 1918, die. Please pray for me, my dear parents. This is my last letter and testament. (Signed) Robert P. Prager.

In Prager's pocket was found a long proclamation in which he stated his loyalty to the German cause and his desire to fight for Germany. He also stated that he was a socialist and a communist. He was hanged to a tree and his body was found this morning dangling to the limb of a tree.

SPEAKER TELLS OF WHEAT SITUATION

DEAN DAVENPORT, IN ADDRESS BEFORE MILK PRODUCERS, OF ROCK COUNTY URGES FARMERS TO SELL THEIR WHEAT.

CHICAGO GAYEST CITY

Describes Conditions Existing in the East and Urges People to Make Sacrifices to Help Win War.

Nearly three hundred farmers and citizens of Janesville attended the meeting of the Rock County Milk Producers' Association at the Court House last evening. The meeting on Thursday evening was one of the best the association has ever had and the audience was given a stirring talk on the food situation of this country by Dean Davenport of the University of Illinois.

Mr. Davenport surprised his audience when all during his address he never mentioned the milk situation, but told the crowd that he had come to Janesville at the request of the government to present to them the facts concerning the food situation of the United States at the present time.

In opening his address Dean Davenport spoke of a few moments of the past and told of how some parts of the country had been stripped of their labor by the young men being inducted into military service. He advocated a change in the draft laws and stated that he would like to see the quota of each community placed on the men in Class 1 and not on the entire population of the community.

The speaker then dwelt on the food situation and stated that the people of this country did not realize what an important question this was and that the country was at this time in a perilous state, owing to the shortage of wheat. The Allies must have wheat and they must have it at once. They require at the present time nearly a bushel of wheat that is in the United States, and he then spoke of the good work Mr. Hoover is doing and stated that it is the Food Administrator's wish to send the Allies 1,000,000 bushels of wheat in a very short time.

Mr. Davenport then told of how the people in this country, even with the countless days consumed more wheat during the past year than ever before in the history of the country. He attributed this to the fact that there are more people working now in the country than ever before and that they are eating a great deal more. He added further that this was no time to live for pleasure and that the people who are living the same as usual are not much better than traitors and that they will have to realize that unless they want to be under the rule of the Kaiser that they will have to change their mode of living and change it at once.

He stated that the main question at the present time was food and then pointed out how many of the big battles in Europe were lost on account of the armies not having food. He named the trouble in Russia to the lack of food and also stated that the retreat of the Italians was made in order that the army could get back where they could get food. He spoke with the utmost sincerity. Dean Davenport pleaded with the farmers to sell all the wheat they had and not to try and secrete it and make it necessary for the government to commandeer it. He told the audience of the tremendous amount of wheat in Australia and India, but pointed out that it was impossible for the Allies to get the wheat to Europe at the present time owing to the lack of shipping facilities. He attacked the people in this country who are doing all in their power to hinder the work of the government.

"If the war is lost by the United States it will not be the fault of the armed forces, but will be entirely the fault of the men, women and children of this country," said Dean Davenport. Leaving the wheat problem for a moment, the speaker told of the potato situation in this country and urged the people to eat potatoes and go without wheat. He pointed out where there was just as much starch in potatoes as in wheat and that the former were plentiful in the country at the present time. From the potato situation the speaker spoke of the meat problem, and again urged the people to consume meat, as there is at the present time a tremendous amount of meat on hand.

Returning to the wheat question he again urged the farmers to sell their wheat and not hoard it, and talked in the most vigorous language of what would happen if the Allies did not have all the wheat they required. He stated that the next ninety days was going to be a big event in the history of the world, and stated that the war was going to be a long one and that the only hope the United States and the Allies had of winning this war was the people of the country would stand back of the armies and give up the pleasures of life to help win the war.

In closing his address Dean Davenport spoke of the sacrifices that the people must make in order to have the United States win the war. He told of the sacrifices that people are making and then told of how the people of this country are not fully awake to the dangerous peril that confronts them. He spoke of the difference in attitude between the people of New York and other eastern cities and the people of the middle west. He told of how he gay right life of New York and other eastern cities and the people of the middle west. He told of how he gay right life of New York and other eastern cities and the people of the middle west.

He again pleaded with the farmers to work hard during the summer and told of the faith, the administration and the farmers and that it rested a good deal upon their shoulders whether the United States would survive or how to Prussianism.

Moving Picture Funnies.

1. RASTUS SPILLS THE BLACK INK OFF THE SHELF! WILL YOU PUT THE INK BACK IN THE BOTTLE AGAIN? 2. Glub, the cave man, hurried home through the early dawn. Slung from his shoulders were three large stones, and on his face was an anxious grin. At the door of the cave stood Bla, the cave woman, a scowl of wrath in her face, and a large, knotty club in her hand. Glub gulped when he saw her, and hastily set the stones on the ground. Grinning sheepishly, he approached and struck her affectionately on the side of the face, following the blow with a tug at her back hair. But these blandishments were all lost on Bla, the stony hearted, who fixed him in the eye with the largest knot on the club. "Have a heart, sweetie!"—or words to that effect—began Glub. At the sound of his voice, Bla broke into a prehistoric snuffle and removed the club from her mate's eye. "Where have you been?" she sniffed. "I'll bet I know. I'll bet you've been over with those nasty, low-down tree dwellers, rolling bones till all hours, with your wife and children waiting for you and thinking you had been run over by a glacier, and the best ichthyosaurus stew you ever saw going to waste. O! Bo! Ho!" Breaking into loud, paleolithic sobs, Bla once more brought the club to bear upon her spouse's plighted topic. Glub was grievous and her reproaches made him feel guilty.

SUBJECT OF CRIME IS WELL DISCUSSED

Mrs. O. D. Bates Reads Interesting Paper on Crime to Athena Class.—Date of Meeting Changed.

The change of the day of Thursday back to Wednesday as the meeting of the Athena Class was the chief item of business transacted at the regular meeting of that society held on yesterday at the library. It was changed on account of Red Cross work, but now that the rooms are open for a longer time, it was deemed wise to return to the old day.

The subject of crime, with Mrs. O. D. Bates as leader, was the topic of study at the meeting. It was defined as being a wrong, either of commission or omission, against society. And the offenses were classed as being against the state, the person or the society. It was brought out in the discussion that there was a great change in the form of crime since the 18th century. Then highway robbery was common, and piracy and smuggling was an every day affair. The modern method of crime was defined as being of more subtle form, but quite as dangerous to the community. The causes of crime were outlined as being of heredity, education or environment. Education and training were found to be deterrent factors, and the regular habits, the discipline and the industry brought to the pupils of the public schools by their school work were the best correctives possible for criminals.

The enforcement of the law was along the line of Retribution, Repression, Reformation and Prevention, and each of the methods showed the progress of thought in this matter. The parole system was also slightly discussed by the members. This system is to have further consideration in the resume of a book written about Sing Sing, to be given by Mrs. L. L. Reers at the next meeting of the class.

BANQUET GIVEN FOR HIGH SCHOOL TEAM

Close of Season Is Marked at Myers Hotel Last Evening.—Sweaters Are Awarded to Players.

As the final event to bring the successful basketball season to a close, the members of the high school team, manager and coach, enjoyed a banquet given last evening at the Myers hotel. Twenty-two people were present, including seven members of the squad, two managers, the coach and Mr. and Mrs. George Bassford. The banquet was served promptly at seven o'clock and was followed by a short program of speeches. Captain "Bill" Flern, who led the team through the season, was the first speaker and told of the successes attained and the humorous little incidents which happened on the trip. Captain-elect Austin Sprackling then told of the prospects for next year and predicted that with four men returning to school another team of high calibre was expected. Coach Victor Hemming and Mr. Bassford were also on the program and gave interesting talks.

Those present were: William Flern, Austin Sprackling, Thomas Nuzum, Robert Lane, Malcolm Paul, Lawrence Nichols, Charles Luser, Kurt Fuchs, Roy Keller, Victor Hemming and Mr. Bassford, and Ruth Black, Mildred Smith, Alice Barlow, Ruth Rowley, Jean McNamara, Catherine Cunningham, Catharine Scholler, Florence Austin, Marion Decker, Miriam Allen and Mrs. Bassford.

At the close of school yesterday afternoon six members of the team and Coach Hemming were awarded sweaters by the athletic board. Those members of the team who gained sweaters by their work during the season were: Captain Flern, Sprackling, Nuzum, Lane, Huser and Paul. The sweaters are dark blue with red collars and have a black white "J" on them.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Mr. Editor—Dear Sir: I think you had ought to warn Mr. Hoover that he don't get a little more liberal pretty soon, some of those kickers and faultfinders will get mad and raise their own wheat and vegetables on a piece of land that they might rent for the occasion; and while you are at it you might warn Garfield if he don't do better next winter they may look up their firing this summer. Now just the evenings are so long they will have a lot of time to work in a garden or the land that they rent when Herbert and them falls out. A GAZETTE READER.

PATRIOTIC PUBLIC MEETING

Which Will be Held at the Congregational Church, Saturday Eve., April 6, at 8:30 O'clock

Tomorrow, Saturday, April 6th, marks the first anniversary of America's entrance into the Great War; the day will be fittingly known henceforth as "Liberty Day" and in Janesville will be celebrated in the following manner:

A Most Interesting Talk By R. H. Markham

Presentation of Medals to Boy Scout Prize Winners

A Short Address on the Coming Liberty Loan Campaign

Mr. Markham recently returned with his family from Bulgaria, where he has been missionary of the American Board for the past six years. In coming to this country Mr. Markham passed through Bulgaria, Austria, Switzerland, France and England, consuming 12 weeks to make the journey. He is very well informed on conditions in those countries and is an interesting and able speaker who will give a graphic word picture of how the several countries are faring in war times. Mr. Markham was so impressed by the need for men that as soon as his family is established in this country he is going to enlist for service in France. Don't fail to hear this speaker.

A representative of the United States Government will present to the Boy Scouts of this city the Honor Medals which they won during the last Liberty Loan Campaign for the sale of bonds.

There will also be a short address on the coming Liberty Loan Campaign by one of the members of the Rock County Liberty Loan Committee, as well as patriotic singing and music.

It will be a program that you should not miss. It is free. Wear a small American flag in your lapel and attend this Big Patriotic Public Meeting.

SPECIAL NOTE: As tomorrow is "Liberty Day" every private residence and business house is urged to properly display the American Flag.

SALARIES.
This is a day and age when skilled labor, whether mental or physical, commands high wages. Perhaps no profession is more underpaid, at the present status of affairs, than that of the teachers, for the amount of work done. The Janesville school board recently held a meeting at which the teachers for the coming year were elected and salaries decided upon. It is to be hoped that they recognized the necessity of paying more for the mental requirements, than in the past. If not, they will find that other communities will be quick to take advantage of the lapse of good judgment and we must find our schools filled with a supply of superannuated or inefficient teachers when schools open next fall.

Aside from the office of superintendent of schools, a position so ably filled by Mr. Faust, the principal of the high school, is next in responsibility. Mr. Harford has demonstrated, to those who have kept in touch with school work, his efficiency for the position. He holds the parents who have come in touch with him can testify his work. It is to be hoped he will be retained, as he has now become thoroughly acquainted with his school and its requirements, and his work next year will be more valuable than ever. The question of salaries is an important one, but we must remember in some other respect and keep in the standard of the schools. Prizes are at a premium these war days, and the quicker the school board of Janesville discovers it and arranges to pay adequate salaries, the quicker the scholarship of our schools will come up to the standard. It is money saved, not money wasted.

THE FIRST STEPS.
Hardly had the final ballots been counted in Beloit, Tuesday night, and it was assumed that the Outway City had been voted dry for the first time in twenty-five years, than enterprising proprietors of first emporiums in that city, began casting longing eyes on Janesville as the Mecca for their devotion to the mystic god Bacchus. Already overtures have been made to numerous local men in the retail liquor business here, for their places of business. It would be a strange condition if the men who placed Beloit on the dry map, should be permitted to move to Janesville and conduct business on the same principles as they did in the community that has become forth like outcasts. It is up to the new city government to decide this problem, but fortunately the state law limits the number of licenses that can be issued, so while the business may increase materially for the time in business, there can not be any more saloons than now exist. This may explain the cash of the Beloit and Outway liquor men sought vainly by the dry vote to gain a foothold in our midst.

Janesville business interests feel the importance of the presence of the Janesville Center, conducted by the women of the city, and recognize the value of such a room. The present location is a small well equipped to meet all the requirements, and it is to be hoped that as long as the present system is in vogue, she will be retained. Visitors to the city enjoy the hospitality she offers them and the daily list of those accommodated within its walls would not know what to do should she be replaced by some one else.

BE A BOOSTER.
The majority always rules. The men selected at the recent city election as aldermen, and for the various city offices, will handle the civic matters to the best of their ability. The change from the commission form of government to the aldermanic, is just as violent as it was two years ago, when adopted, but the men who come in to office have the advantage of a well governed community, and a budget that is comprehensive to start with, and it is safe to say the new council will go about the business of handling city affairs like veterans, when the time comes, and business matters are turned over to them. Not everyone got behind the council, and city officials, from Mayor Valentine down and back them up by their earnest efforts. Do not be a slacker, be a booster, and the results will count in the final round up of civic activities. It is a new work for many of the aldermen elect, and they do not need too much advice, but should be left to work out the solution of the problem that confronts them, backed by citizen as a whole, and not hampered by cowering criticism.

Well, the "sewing" that vice-president Marshall said remained for the Lenroot contingent, to use, evidently was augmented by a lot of thinking men, to the tune of some hundred and twenty odd thousand who repudiated his ill timed remarks. This Milwaukee Journal may rave as much as it likes but the fallacy of the propaganda that Wisconsin was a disloyal state if it did not elect Davies has been proven false. Wisconsin is loyal, if the truth be told, the Journal has been responsible for more than half this talk of the state's disloyalty that has spread through the country at large. Sensational articles may sell a paper, but the truth will triumph in the end.

It must make a successful candidate for office feel terribly sore, to see the picture of some absolute stranger, printed in a paper with his name below it, wondering perhaps, if it is not the photo of some man sentenced to life imprisonment or who-but it is one of the penalties of being "great."

"Somewhere in France" several hundred Rock county boys are doing their "bit" in this great war. Somewhere the big shells are bursting, and if "our boys" are called on you can rest assured they are going to do the best that is in them and the result is a foregone conclusion. "Über den Rhine."

Wait until Goose Island gets out from under this high water, and then see what a wonderful recreation park it would make for the citizens if properly equipped during the coming summer months. Bath houses and all that sort of things, just what real cities would give millions to create.

These war gardens need attention right now. Get busy and be ready to meet the emergency, and plant all you can care for, and help keep down the high cost of living.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest.

THE FAMILY ROW.
It started in the usual way. He got up out of sorts one day. An' somethin' ugly that he said. Just ask her choice to dance, red. And she replied, as women will, I've never known one t' keep still. When keepin' still would save a row. They've got to have it out somehow. An' she is full of her an' light. An' went at him with all her might. It wasn't much to start with, but since neither of their mouths stayed shut.

First thing we knew an A-I fuss was under way, involvin' us. She said I was an old fool. That never owned a decent suit. An' with the venom born of wrath allowed I never took a bath. That done she jumped on Ma, an' said. Some things that went right to his head. An' he came back then good an' strong. About her brother who went wrong. An' told her several things he knew about her married sister, too. They fung their charges round the place. About each family's disgrace.

Till she just up an' quit, an' he. Come home an' told his woes to me. One thing I've learned in sixty years. In he's a fool who interferes. In rows like that, so all I said. When he had told his tale, was 'Ed. Two fools can make an awful row. From nothing just forgot it now. In not a-goin' to spoil your life. By takin' sides against your wife. Go home an' kiss her, an' be good. He grinned a bit, an' said he would. An' when he reached their little back. He found her folks had sent her back. You see they had to learn just how To have a little family row.

TWO BOYS ENLISTED IN THE ARMY TODAY

Willmuth Davison and Paul Richards Left For Camp at Columbus, Ohio This Afternoon.

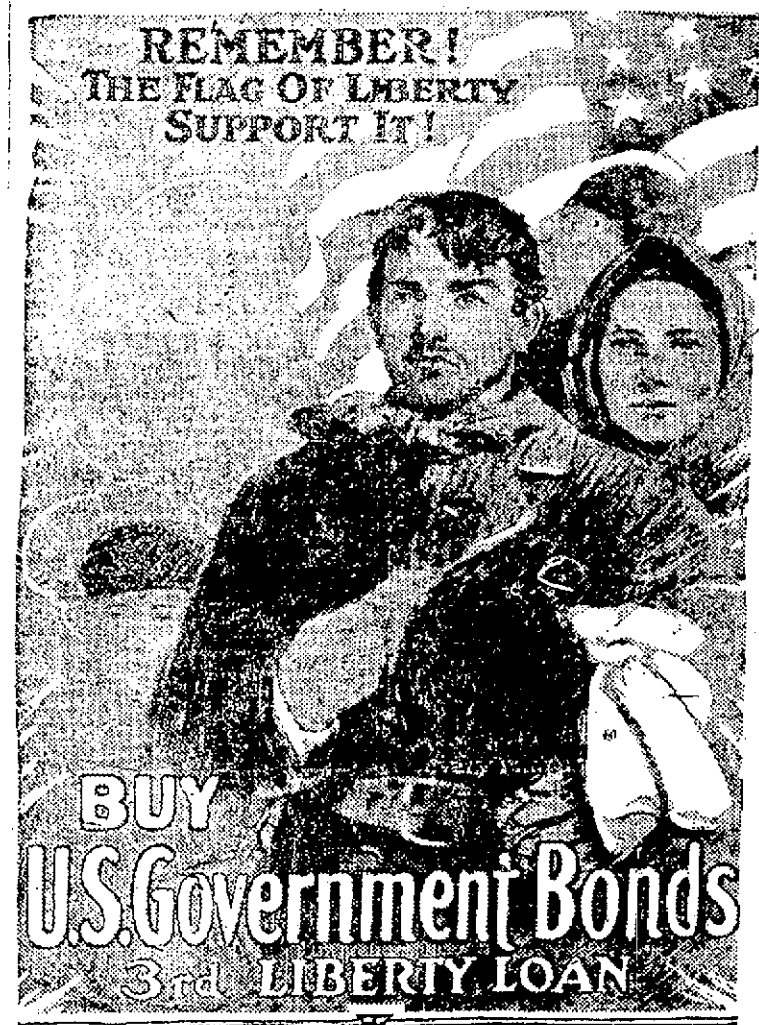

Two more Janesville boys, left this afternoon at three-fifty for Columbus, Ohio, where they will be trained for auto service in the Quartermaster's department of the United States army. The enlistment of these two young men comes as a complete surprise to their many friends as no one had the slightest inkling of their going until the enlistment was announced. The enlistment was immediately issued and this afternoon at three-fifty they left for Columbus. Paul Richards was an instructor of automobile in the local Vocational school and Willmuth Davison was assistant boys' secretary at the local Y. M. C. A. They resigned their positions this morning. Both young men left together so that they might be in the same company during the war. Paul Richards intends to go into the truck service and later take the examination for an instructorship in automobile in the army. This position comes with it a commission. Willmuth Davison will try the job of driving a car for the staff officers. Private Mathew Kurth, local enlistment officer, gave both boys the preliminary examinations. Approximately one hundred high school boys were dismissed from school a little earlier to give them an appropriate send-off and wishes of good luck. Red Cross comfort kits were also supplied by the local Red Cross.

SON OF BERNSTORFF FACING LIBEL SUIT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Amsterdam, April 5.—Berlin society is much stirred by a suit for libel against Count Christian Gunther von Bernstorff, son of the former German ambassador to the United States, by Baron Walter von Radeck, a member of an old Prussian family who lived for many years in England. Count Gunther's wife, who was Mrs. Marguerite Vivian Berton Thomson of Burlington, N. J., and a number of others including the wife of the general commanding an army on the western front, are also defendants in the case. Baron von Radeck and his wife were divorced in October, 1917, and she subsequently married Count von Bernstorff. The result was a physical encounter between the two men in which von Radeck tore the shoulder straps from von Bernstorff's uniform. Thereupon von Bernstorff declared that von Radeck was not capable of giving satisfaction as a gentleman and charged von Radeck with spying for England. This resulted in von Radeck leaving the army and von Bernstorff being punished by military court. The baron now charges von Bernstorff with fourteen others caused his voice and dismissal from the army by circulating untruthful reports. Count Christian Gunther von Bernstorff and Mrs. Thomson were married last December. He is twenty-six years old and in 1915 was a clerk in the office of Speyer and company. He entered the German diplomatic service shortly after the outbreak of the war. Count von Bernstorff is about thirty years old.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Joplin, Mo., April 5.—A vigilance committee last night visited the headquarters of the Joplin Turnverein Germania and the Joplin Liedertanz society and with black paint completely obliterated the names of the clubs from the doors of the building. The vigilants then issued a warning the names are not to be replaced.

LENROOT'S MAJORITY IN COUNTY BOOSTED

Official Canvass of Tuesday's Election Returns in Rock County Shows That Lenroot's Lead Over Davies Was 2,461.

Irvine L. Lenroot received an official total of 5,951 votes in Rock county, according to figures compiled today by the board of canvassers, which was composed of County Clerk Howard Lee and Supervisors E. D. McGowan and D. A. McCarthy of the town of Porter. This is fifteen votes in excess of the figures as announced Wednesday and will serve to boost his majority in the state. Davies ran second in the senatorial race in the county with 3,490. Unofficial returns Tuesday night gave the total number of ballots for him 3,478. On the official count his count was boosted by twelve votes.

This makes Lenroot's majority over Davies officially in Rock county 2,461 instead of 2,458 as the unofficial returns gave him. The official canvass out Berger's total vote by 41 votes. The number of ballots actually cast for the socialist candidate was 743 instead of 734. The total number of ballots cast in the county for all candidates was 10,184.

Patriotic songs will be sung by a large chorus and "Marching Through Georgia" and "Just Over the Battle Mother," will be rendered by the members of the Grand Army of the Republic. ROCK RIVER CONTINUES TO DECREASE RAPIDLY

Rock River continues to recede rapidly and most of the basements of the downtown district are now free from water. Fires are now going in all the buildings and the downtown district is no longer threatened by the water.

The ice in Lake Koshkonong is gradually disappearing and at first it was thought that the ice would have a tendency to raise the water. The water at Newville, Indian Orchard and Fulton has also decreased rapidly.

LENROOT PLURALITY IS NOW 11,395

On the basis of the latest compilation of incomplete returns, United States Senator-Elect Lenroot's plurality is 11,395, which probably will be materially increased when the final canvass is made.

(The latest totals are: Lenroot, 149,455; Davies, 138,060; Berger, 104,400.)

All counties have been heard from, but the returns are not complete. The complete vote from upper Wisconsin will increase Lenroot's plurality.

TO PREVENT GERMAN UPRISING IN BRAZIL

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Buenos Aires, April 5.—A row in light into Argentina's attitude toward German intrigues in South America has just been given by a statement of President Pellegrini Viera of Uruguay in which he informed the Uruguayan congress that President Bragosa of Argentina had promised to place the entire Argentine armed force at the disposition of Uruguay if that country's northern provinces were threatened by the rumored German uprising in southern Brazil. Argentina volunteering at the same time to assume whatever responsibilities might result from such action.

The disposition was a great surprise to the Argentine people, as it was to the Uruguayan congress. Speaking to the Uruguayan congress, President Viera said:

"With Argentina we have still further strengthened the sentiments of friendly solidarity which connect our two countries and which were consolidated not long ago by President Trigo's visit to the Argentine capital. It is an action that does honor to the Argentine sentiments."

"The view of the serious situation that the German government was fostering an insurrection in the German colonies with the object of producing an uprising in the provinces of southern Brazil, it being intimated that it was also intended to produce an invasion of the north of our territory, the Uruguayan government, in bringing the matter to the attention of the Argentine government, asked expressly what would be the attitude of the Argentine government in case the Uruguayan government should find it necessary to ask for material aid in the event of the uprising of the colonies which could be mobilized."

"President Bragosa assured our Argentine representative in Argentina that the Argentine government would place at its assistance in the defense of the sovereignty of the Uruguayan nation, assisting the consequences of the insurrection, the Argentine power, thanked President Trigo for such friendly assistance."

This declaration is the first intimation that local political circles in Argentina and Uruguay, and is being made public by the supporters of President Bragosa who have been maintaining along the line of foreign policy is entitled to bring about a closer union of South American republics for mutual protection against other countries and to remain aloof from foreign disputes, including the threat to the territory of South American countries.

Infantile Paralysis Gains.
Madison, April 5.—Infantile paralysis has gained an early start in the state, according to physicians, and stringent measures will be necessary to prevent the disease from reaching epidemic proportions. Physicians and health officers have been notified to promptly report all cases of the disease and to take special precautions to check it before hot weather arrives.

FASHION HINT

The tunic, copied after those worn by the peasant women of Europe, bids fair to be popular this season, with the younger set. This one is developed in white voile with round neck with small bib collar back and front piped with old rose satin as are the cuffs. Fine tucks and hand embroidery furnish the greater part of the trimming and white silk balls make an effective trimming for the sleeves, which are open from the cuff almost to the elbow.

MRS. MALONE AND THE CENSOR.

When Mrs. Malone got a letter from Pat. She started to read it aloud in her flat. "Dear Mary," it started, "I can't tell you much. I'm somewhere in France, and I'm fightin' the Dutch. I'm chokin' wid news that I'd like to write. But it's little a soldier's permitted to state."

"Do ye mind Red McPhee—well, he was in a ditch. An' busted an arm, but I can't tell ye which."

"An' Paddy O'Hara was caught in a name. An' rescued by—Faith, I can't tell ye his name. Last night I woke up wid a terrible pain. I thought for awhile it would drive me insane. Oh, the sufferin' I had was most dreadful to bear. I'm sorry, my dear, but I can't tell ye where. The doctor he gave me a pill, but I find, it's contrary to rules to disclose here the kind."

"I've been t' the dentist an' had a tooth out. I'm sorry t' leave you so shrouded in doubt. But the best I can say is that one tooth is gone. The censor won't let me inform ye which one. I met a young fellow who knows ee right well. An' ye know him, too, but his name I can't tell. He's Irish, red-headed, an' there wid his folks once knew your folks back home in Killarney."

"By gorry," said Mrs. Malone in her flat.

"It's hard t' make sense out av writin' like that. But I'll give him as good as he sends, that I will."

So she went right to work with her ink well an' quill.

An' she wrote, "I suppose ye're dead eager fer news. You know when we left we were buyin' in the shoes. Well, the baby has come, an' we're both deat' well. It's a boy. Oh, but that's somethin' they won't let me tell."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin, March 11, 1918.

Mr. Editor: Should each and every person be entitled to their opinion on any and all subjects? Sure, providing they keep their opinion to themselves, but there are times when it is right that they should express their opinion, especially when one asks it who has a right to know. Now I hold this to be good and true. If there are any among us who are so low as to entertain opinions detrimental to the interests of our country (especially in times of war) and are in sympathy with the enemies of our country, they have no right to live here enjoying the institutions they condemn. They should not be allowed the protection of the flag they disgrace, they who entertain disgraceful thoughts regarding their country, its laws and institutions, are traitors at heart and they who promulgate such sentiments are guilty of treason. The antidote for treason is an old one and many nations long have used it. It should be administered by a firm hand and steady aim.

The medicine is good, warranted to be a sure cure in all acute cases pertaining to Kaiserism. "No Kaiser! No war!" To h— with the Kaiser! J. P. ABLEE.

Germans Arrested.
Albion, April 5.—Although they left Germany to evade military service, August and Gustav Grudis did not approve of the methods of America, but now they have discovered that even the United States demands respect for its flag and its laws. The brothers were charged with making seditious remarks concerning the draft. One was sent to an internment camp for the remainder of the war and the other to the front.

A clever play was a feature of an entertainment given by the ladies' committee of the Odd Fellows lodge No. 90 at the West Side Odd Fellows hall last evening. It was called "Auntie" and the very capable cast included Fred Blakey, Eugene Olin, Mrs. George Barriagere, and Miss Gladys Drummond. The parts were played with the sureness and ability of professionals, and made a great hit with the audience. Beside the play there was a dainty wedding in which the bride and groom were Mrs. Harrington and Mr. Harpington. The minister was Mr. L. Case. Walter Carle sang the song numbers accompanying the skit. Mrs. Howard Sallor gave a humorous reading, "Moving Pictures," which was very enjoyable and responded to an encore by "Raus mit dem Kaiser."

Some delightful musical numbers were also given. Mrs. Kempton singing "Perfect Day" and "Keep the Home Fires Burning" with good effect. The duet of Mrs. J. R. Nichols and Mr. Leonard Matthews, "Sunshine of Your Smile" was rendered with ability and sympathetic appreciation, and they were obliged to respond with "The Long Trail." Several orchestra numbers were played by the "Akers Sisters," who with three mandolins and the piano succeeded in giving some tuneful and effective music.

The whole entertainment was interesting, pleasing and very enjoyably well planned, and reflected credit on the committee. Mrs. Chatfield, Mrs. Miller and Miss Nellie Slindee, who had charge of the event. After the program, dancing was indulged in until a late hour. Geo. Muenchow at the piano furnished the music.

Heart and Home Problems

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a woman thirty-two and I have been married twice. I loved my first husband with all my heart and for three years I thought our love and marriage was ideal. Without any warning I learned that my husband had been living with another woman for eight months. We had a talk and he told me that he loved the other woman and would leave me to get a divorce. I did not want to hold him against his will and especially when he was untruthful to me, and so I divorced him.

You could talk the matter over with your husband and ask him to give you your freedom. But I am afraid that once you had your freedom again you would be just as unhappy and lonely. My husband is a very good man and I am sure that he would do anything that would command your interest all day. If you do active Red Cross work you might find relief. It is certainly help you to get into business life, but probably your husband would object to such a course.

Do not be selfish. You made a mistake and now you must be game and take your punishment bravely.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I got my school dinner at a grocery. Is there anything I could buy besides meat for sandwiches?

Cheese, peanut butter, honey and dates all make good filling for sandwiches.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What is the best way to remove a mole?

L. F. Have it removed with the electric needle.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Is it proper for a young man to ask a girl's parents' consent to marry their daughter when he has been engaged to her for some time?

GIRLIE. Every young man should tell the girl's parents his plans. It is courtesy due them. If the couple have been engaged for some time, confess that.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am seventeen years old. One of my girl friends is going to have a party and she told me to come and bring a boy. I don't go with any boy and so I don't know who to bring. I thought it would be all right to invite the boy next door who is my age?

DOUBTFUL. I think it would be all right.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Could a girl be happy with a man who has no regard for her people?

SINCERE. No, because he would not be a gentleman and in time he would treat her with the same lack of regard.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I bought a war savings stamp and lost it before I got it registered. Is there any way I can get my money back on it?

UNFORTUNATE. There is no way to get your money back since you had not registered the stamp.

EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE

In the presence of others do not hum to yourself, nor drum with your fingers or feet.

BEAU: The lady who insisted upon returning to you the money you had expended upon her and her daughter when you took them on the three days' automobile trip did not insult you, but acted courteously; and you should have accepted the money without opposition, since she wished to pay it back. She evidently did not wish to be under such heavy obligation to you. Undoubtedly both ladies enjoyed the trip very much, and were glad to have your company and protection; but perhaps they felt that to allow you to bear all the expenses entailed would be an imposition.

AMOKER: Your wife is quite right; a cupid is not a fitting article to place in a house. It does not belong there, and is a disgusting thing to see sitting about in a room. If it is really placed, some man might forget that he is a gentleman, and make use of it in the presence of ladies.

CAKES
Strawberry Shortcake—Two cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one-third cup butter, one egg, three-quarter cup sweet milk, one-half cup sugar. Good and cheap.

Sift flour, salt and baking powder together. Mix in butter lightly. Beat the egg, mix with milk and add to the dry ingredients. Toss on greased board and roll about one-half inch thick. Put layer in ordinary pie or other layer on top. Bake fifteen to twenty minutes.

War Cake—One and one-half cups flour, one cup sugar (brown), two teaspoons baking powder, butter size of walnut melted in a cup, add one egg and all cup with milk. Bake in greased pan. Good and cheap.

Iceing—One cup powdered sugar; add a little butter, moisten with cream and stir smooth. Cocoa can be added for chocolate iceing.

War Cake—Four tablespoons lard, one and one-quarter cups sugar (brown or granulated), one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon each of nutmeg, cinnamon and cloves, one cup raisins, two cups boiling water.

Boil above ingredients together five minutes; cool, add two teaspoons soda, dissolved in one teaspoon hot water, then add one cup flour, one cup raisins, two cups baking powder. Bake in layers or in a loaf.

Chocolate Cake—One cup sugar, butter size of egg, two eggs, one cup buttermilk, one teaspoon soda dissolved in the buttermilk. Bake in greased pan. Put a teaspoon baking powder into flour and last add one-half cup chocolate.

Marshmallow Frosting—Two cups sugar, three teaspoons lemon juice, enough water to moisten. Cook until it threads. Then beat whites of two eggs stiff; beat into the sirup. Put on cake while warm.

Lemon Sponge Cake—Into one level cup flour put level teaspoon baking powder and sift. Grate off the yellow rind of a lemon. Separate the yolk of one egg.

Measure a scant cup of sugar and beat it to a cream with the yolk; add the grated rind and tablespoon of the juice of lemon. Stir together until thick and creamy.

Now beat the white to a stiff froth. Then quickly and lightly mix without beating a third of the flour with the yolk. The mode of mixing must be very light, rather cutting down through the cake, rather than beating it. Bake immediately until a straw put into it can be drawn out clean. Inexpensive and delicious.

Burnt Sugar Cake—One and one-half cups sugar, one-half cup butter, three eggs yolks, one cup cold water, two cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, whites of three eggs beaten stiff and folded in three rounds in the sugar. Bake in greased pan.

Devil's Food Cake—Half cup cocoa, one-half cup sugar, one-half cup water, boil until it thickens, then let it cool. Add one teaspoon vanilla. When cool stir into above one cup sugar (white), one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon lard, one-half cup milk (sweet), one half cup soda dissolved in hot water. Two cups flour and one tablespoon baking powder. It is delicious.

Her Great Adventure

A CALL FROM HOME.

That night Claire relieved her heavy heart with a good cry. She could not have told why; or at least she would not acknowledge any more than that she was losing for the time a friend. And would he have seemed such a sure, dependable friend?

"But it is not for a time," she sobbed. "He thinks I am bad. I know it. He will never come again of his own accord. And I can't, Oh, CAN'T speak of it first!"

Her loneliness after that became intolerable. Several days later, however, she called her up at the office to tell her he was sailing that afternoon; the date had come without warning; schedules were not given out in advance these days; he could not meet her before sailing, etc. Would write. She wished him luck. "Good bye—good luck!"

That evening she went to Mrs. Tanning's boarding house for dinner. She would have braved a whole accusing world rather than be alone that night. She felt ever June Browning's parting friendliness would be welcome. She longed for a sight of the house, the boarders, the servants even. It would be a sort of friendly call.

Old Mrs. Tanning greeted her with scolding heartiness. "Claire Bortin, how dare you show your face here after neglecting me like that?" she cried, shaking her. "Too prosperous to know your humble friends, eh? Too proud in your prosperity. Shame on you!" Then as she saw the tears spring to Claire's eyes, she clasped her to her breast. "Come, come, we can't wait dinner for you forever. Run into my room and wash up. Brownie is alone at her table tonight. I'll come and join you."

It felt like a warm blanket, a criminal with a reprieve. She clung to Mrs. Tanning's embrace as long as she could without drawing attention to her agitation.

"For dear old Gorgon!" she cried, sniffing her tears back. How is everybody?"

"Well, to be everybody means first of all John Reeves," Mrs. Tanning said, with a quick scrutiny. "Good night. I'm fond of John. He sailed for France today."

Fables of the Friendly Forest

I'm sorry, but Billy Bunny threw away the pill that cured the donkey. "Who's singing?" asked Uncle Lucky, holding his right paw behind his left ear and wiggling his nose up and down and sideways so fast that it made a little fly dizzy to look at it. And just then they came across a Billy Goat standing outside a tent dressed in khaki with a gun over his shoulder.

"Halt! Who goes there?" cried the sentry. "Halt!" and of course Uncle Lucky put on the brakes and made the Luckymobile stop right then and there.

"Friend or foe?" asked the sentry, looking into the automobile and lifting the cushions of the seats and opening the cabinet and lighting the lamps and honking the horn, and oh, dear me! doing everything and anything he could to annoy good, kind Uncle Lucky.

"What do you think we are?" asked Billy Bunny. "We are U. S. A. Bun-nies. Don't you make any mistake about that!"

"I beg your pardon," said the sentry, saluting the two rabbits most respectfully. "I only wanted to make sure. These are war times, you know, and we must be on the lookout every minute of the day and every corner of the night." And then he saluted again and turned away. And then, all of a sudden, the hand began playing, but it must have been off in the woods somewhere, for the little bunnies couldn't see it.

Hurrah for Uncle Samuel, King of the U. S. A. Three cheers for the Blue, And the Red and White, too, And the Silver Stars, I say, And here's to the sailor lad in blue And the soldier boy in brown, From the farm and the mine, And the big steel mill, Or the little home town.

ILLINOIS EDUCATORS ARE IN ANNUAL SESSION TODAY

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Carbondale, Ill., April 5.—Hundreds of educators are here today attending the annual convention of the Southern Illinois Teachers' Association. Several prominent men are on the program as speakers. "The war" will be the general topic under discussion during the sessions, which will continue until Saturday. Interest in the convention today centers in an address to be delivered tonight by Prof. William Howard Taft, former president. He will talk on "The Great War." Preceding the address, "The War," an operation, will be given by the training school of the Southern Illinois Normal, where the sessions are being held.

HEALTH TALKS

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

The Bridegroom's Health Certificate
Public sentiment is coming to endorse the belief that a young man of upright character ought to obtain and after his health certificate voluntarily as a preliminary to his engagement, and not as a preliminary to the wedding. Has a young man the right to contract to marry when he is not healthy? Has a father the right to consent to a daughter's engagement before he has satisfied himself of the young man's fitness to marry?

From time immemorial fathers have endeavored to make sure of the financial, social and moral standing of prospective sons-in-law. They have done their best with the little light they have had. If the young man is soundly and obviously ill, it has been a victim of some clearly contagious disease, the average father has wisely opposed the marriage and in this he has always had the approval of the public. But alas, there are two contagious diseases which are deadly in their effects and which are all too easily concealed from the knowledge of the public, and these diseases have been overlooked until too late to save the innocent bride from lifelong invalidism and unhappiness.

If syphilis and gonorrhea were so easily curable that they could be cured by a single dose of medicine, they would scarcely be need of a bridegroom's health certificate. If these diseases were respecters of persons a young man's social standing, honor and reputation alone would suffice. But the plain truth is that a certain proportion of young men of all classes of society willfully or ignorantly marry while still infected with one of these diseases, and thus the divorce mills and the surgical wards for women can never cease work. Experienced physicians have stated that the majority of the mutilating operations done on wives are made necessary by gonorrheal infection from the husband. A health certificate is far more essential to a happy marriage than is the bridegroom's financial, social or moral reputation. Indeed

RAINBOW'S END

A NOVEL BY REX BEACHE Author of "The Iron Trail," "The Spoilers," "Heart of the Sunset," etc.

Copyright by Harper and Brothers. A true Don Esteban cried: "That will do, Cueto! Leave him now for the flies to punish. They will remind him of his insolence." Then the guests departed, and Esteban staggered into the house and went to bed.

All that morning Sebastian stood with his hands chained high over his head. The sun grew hotter and ever hotter upon his lacerated back; the blood dried and clotted there; a cloud of flies gathered, swarming over the raw gashes left by Cueto's whip.

Since Don Esteban's nerves, or perhaps it was his conscience, did not permit him to sleep, he arose about midnight and dressed himself. He was still drunk, and the mad rage of the early morning still possessed him; therefore, when he mounted his horse he pretended not to see the figure chained to the window grating. Sebastian's affection for his master was dog-like and he had taken his punishment as a dog takes his, more in surprise than in anger, but at this proof of callous indifference a fire kindled in the old fellow's breast, hotter by far than the fever from his fly-bitten sores. He was thirsty, too, but that was the least of his sufferings.

Some time during the afternoon the negro heard himself addressed through the window against the bars of which he leaned. The speaker was Donna Isabel.

"Do you suffer, Sebastian?" she began in a tone of gentleness and pity.

"Yes, mistress." The speaker's tongue was thick and swollen.

"Can I help you?"

"The negro raised his head; he shook his body to rid himself of the insects which were devouring him.

"Give me a drink of water," he said, hoarsely.

"Surely, a great goodfellow, all cool and dripping from the well. But first I want you to tell me something."

"A drink, for the love of heaven," panted the old man, and Donna Isabel saw how cracked and dry were his thick lips, how near the torture had come to prostrating him.

"I'll do more," she promised, and her voice was like honey. "I'll tell Panchito Cueto to unlock you, even if I risk Esteban's anger by so doing. Will you be my friend? Will you tell me something?"

"What can I tell you?"

"Oh, you know very well! I've asked it often enough, but you have lied, just as my husband has lied to me. He is a miser; he has no heart; he cares for nobody, as you can see. You must hate him now, even as I hate him. Tell me—is there really a treasure, or—?"

"Tell me—is there really a treasure, or—?"

The woman gasped; she choked; she could scarcely force the question for fear of disappointment. "Tell me there is, Sebastian. I've heard so many lies that I begin to doubt."

The old man nodded. "Oh, yes, there is a treasure," said he. "Oh! You have seen it?" Isabel was trembling as if with an ague. "What is it like? How much is there?"

Don Sebastian, if give you water; I'll have you set free if you tell me."

"How much? I don't know. But there is much—pieces of Spanish gold, silver coins in casks and in little boxes—the boxes are bound with iron and have hasps and staples; bars of precious metal and little paper packages of gems, all tied up and hidden in leather bags."

"Yes! Go on."

"There are ornaments, too. God knows they must have come from heaven, they are so beautiful; and pearls from the Caribbean as large as plums."

"Are you speaking the truth?"

"Did I not make the hiding-place all alone? Senora, everything is there just as I tell you—and more. The grants of title from the crown for this quinta and the sugar plantations, they are there, too. Don Esteban used to fear the government officials, so he hid his papers securely. Without them the lands belong to no one. You understand?"

"Of course! Yes, yes! But the jewels—Where are they hidden?"

"You would never guess!" Sebastian's voice gathered strength. "Ten thousand men in ten thousand years would never find the place, and nobody knows the secret but Don Esteban and me."

"I believe you. I knew all the time it was here. Well? Where is it?"

Sebastian hesitated and said, piteously, "I am dying—"

Isabel could scarcely contain herself. "I'll give you water, but first tell me where—where! God in heaven! Can't you see that I, too, am perishing?"

"I must have a drink."

"Tell me first."

Sebastian lifted his head and, meeting the speaker's eyes, laughed hoarsely.

At the sound of his unnatural merriment Isabel recoiled as if stung. She stared at the slave's face in amazement and then in fury. She stammered, incoherently, "You—you have been—lying!"

"Oh no! The treasure is there, the greatest treasure in all Cuba, but you shall never know where it is. I'll see to that. It was you who sold my girl; it was you who brought me to this; it was your hand that whipped me. Well, I'll tell Don Esteban how you tried to bribe his secret from me! What do you think he'll do then? Eh? You'll feel the lash on your white back—"

"You fool!" Donna Isabel looked murder. "I'll punish you for this; I'll make you speak if I have to rub your wounds with salt."

But Sebastian closed his eyes wearily. "You can't make me suffer more than I have suffered," he said. "And now—I curse you. May that treasure be the death of you. May you live in torture like mine the rest of your days; may your beauty turn to ugliness such that men will spit at you; may you never know peace again until you die in poverty and want—"

But Donna Isabel, being superstitious, fled with her fingers in her ears; nor did she undertake to make good her barbarous threat, realizing opportunistically that it would only serve to betray her desperate intentions and put her husband further on his guard.

As the sun was sinking beyond the further rim of the Yumuri and the valley was beginning to fill with shadows, Esteban Varona rode up the hill. His temper was more evil than ever, if that were possible, for he had drunk again in an effort to drown the memory of his earlier actions. With him were Pablo Peza, and Mario de Castano, Col. Mendoza y Linares, old Pedro Miron, the advocate, and others of less consequence, whom Esteban had gathered from the Spanish club. The host dismounted and lunched across the courtyard to Sebastian.

"So, my fine fellow," he began. "Have you had enough of rebellion by this time?"

Sebastian's face was working as he turned upon his master to say: "I would be lying if I told you that I am sorry for what I did. It is you who have done wrong. Your soul is black with this crime. Where is my girl?"

"The devil! To hear you talk one would think you were a free man. The planter's eyes were bleared and he brandished his riding-whip threateningly. 'I do as I please with my slaves. I tolerate no insolence. Your girl? Well, she's in the house of Salvador. Don Pablo's cocho, where she belongs.'"

Sebastian had hung sick and limp against the grating, but at these words he suddenly roused. He strained at his manacles and the bars groaned under his weight. His eyes began to roll, his lips drew back over his blue gums. Noting his expression of ferocity, Esteban cut at his naked back with the riding-whip, crying:

"Ho! Not subdued yet, eh? You need another flogging."

"Curse you and all that is yours," roared the maddened slave. "May you know the misery you have put upon me. May you rot for a million years in hell. May your children's bodies grow filthy with disease; may they starve; may they—"

Sebastian was yelling, though his voice was hoarse with pain. The lash drew blood with every blow. Meantime, he wrenched and tugged at his bonds with the fury of a maniac.

"Pablo! Your machete, quick!" panted the slaveowner. "I'll make an end of this black fiend, once for all."

Esteban Varona's guests had looked on at the scene with the same mild interest they would display at the whipping of a bulky horse; and, now that the animal threatened to become dangerous, it was in their view quite the proper thing to put it out of the way. Don Pablo Peza stepped toward his scabbard. But he did not hand it to his friend. He heard a shout, and turned in time to see a wonderful and a terrible thing.

Sebastian had braced his naked feet against the wall; he had bowed his back and bent his massive shoulders—a back and a pair of shoulders that looked as hony and muscular as those of an ox—and he was heaving with every ounce of strength in his enormous body. As Pablo stared he saw the heavy grating come away from its anchorage in the solid masonry, as a shrub is uprooted from soft ground. The rods bent and twisted; there was a clank and rattle and clash of metal upon the flags; and then—Sebastian turned upon his tormentor, a free man, save only for the wide iron bracelets and their connecting chain. He was quite insane. His face was frightful to behold; it was apellike in its animal rage, and he towered above his master like some fabled creature out of the African jungle of his forefathers.

Sebastian's fists alone would have been formidable weapons, but they

Druggists Here Have Something New for Colds

Applied Externally, the Body Heat Releases Ingredients in Vapor Form

COLDS GO OVER NIGHT GROUP IN 15 MINUTES

The Manufacturers Have Authorized the Local Druggists to Sell Any of the Three Sizes, 25c, 50c, or $1.00, on 30 Days' Trial.

Since its introduction here a short time ago, the new treatment for colds, known as Vick's VapoRub, has aroused a great deal of interest among local people, especially among mothers with small children.

Local druggists report that numbers have taken advantage of their 30 days' trial offer to see if a 25c jar of VapoRub really will relieve these troubles externally, without having to "dose" with nauseous internal medicines.

For croup, coughs, chest colds, sore throat, bronchitis, apply VapoRub well over the throat and chest, covering with a warm flannel cloth. Leave the covering loose around the neck so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled.

In addition, VapoRub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, taking out that tightness and soreness in the chest. For head colds, catarrh, hay fever, or asthmatic troubles, VapoRub can either be applied up the nostrils or a little melted in a spoon and the vapors inhaled.

You have to try this treatment to realize its remarkable effect in all cases of cold troubles.

Janesville Man Loses Hope

"For 10 years I suffered severely from stomach trouble. The doctors said I had cancer of the stomach and nothing would do but an operation. I took my last dose of May's Wonderful remedy 24 years ago. Since then I sleep well, eat what I want and feel fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. J. P. Baker.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Heals Running Sores and Conquers Piles

Also Stops Itching of Eczema as Soon as Applied.

"I feel it my duty to write you a letter of thanks for your wonderful Peterson's Ointment. I had a running sore on my left leg for one year. I began to use Peterson's Ointment three weeks ago and now it is healed."—A. C. GIBBATH, 703 Reed St., Erie, Pa.

I'd rather get a letter like that, says Peterson, than have John D. Rockefeller give me a thousand dollars. It does me a lot of good to be able to be of use to my fellow men.

For years I have been selling through druggists a large box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT for a trifle. The healing power of this ointment is marvelous. Eczema goes in a few days. Old sores heal up like magic; piles that other remedies do not seem to even relieve are speedily conquered. Pimples and nasty blackheads disappear in a week. So use a box.—Advertisement.

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

JOE WOOD NOW LOOKS LIKE REAL COMEBACK

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
New York, April 5.—There are plenty of indications that the attempt of comeback of Joe Wood as a member of the Cleveland American league club will not be chased with famous thunders of baseball.

Wood, after a long layoff from his crown as one of the finest pitchers ever seen in the American league, is about to blossom to new fame as a first baseman or pinch hitter for the Cleveland club. In a recent exhibition game, he showed a critical time in the twelfth inning of a hard game, that gave victory to the Indians.

When Wood attained undying fame by his extraordinary play with the Red Sox in 1912, the first prominent year of his career for the Boston club—he was known as a pitcher purely—one of the greatest in the league. But his career began to go backward from that time. He finally hit a rut that he could not surmount. He made lots of errors, a notable one being his error of 1915, when he finished with a lack mark, but the season, as a matter of fact, was a failure.

One day last summer Wood entered the grounds for the Indians opposition to the Yankees, but the outcome was mixed. Joe batted along for a while, and then whiffed away, never to take another crack at the pitching mound during the season.

Ever during his palmy days as a pitcher Wood was a great hitter. Not only has he a fine eye for the ball, but he is a hard, true swinger, able to drive the ball with great force. He often was used as a pinch hitter or short into a utility job when the management was forced to desperate measures.

Joe never has lost that ability to take back of the good ones the pitcher stands up there. His hitting has not improved, for he has been hitting himself for the inevitable loss of the worth as a pitcher. Since the year has hit the Cleveland club so hard Joe is in need of a first baseman. Don't be surprised if Joe Wood turns up in it.

If Wood succeeds in his newest ambition it will not be the first time by a great deal that a pitcher has swung from his first place to a star position at another place in the diamond. Roger Bresnahan was a first class pitcher before he became the best catcher in the National league. Fred Mitchell was a pitcher before he stepped into prominence as a catcher. And both these men were real, honest to goodness workmen.

Maybe Joe Wood will yet prove of some value to the Cleveland club, which sent Joe from a trip to the minors when it absorbed his contract with the Red Sox. Nothing would be more gratifying to a lot of American league fans.

MORRIS MILLER

"I have been asked several times why I ever let George Whitted get away from the St. Louis club," said Al Benbrook recently. "Well, the answer is that I was confronted with a situation where I had to gamble high for a player who might help me win a pennant. Whitted had not won a place as a regular with the Cardinals in 1914, and was sitting on the bench. I needed a pitcher badly, and I knew that my case was hopeless if I failed to get one. I discovered that this fellow might be a real find. I went out to get him, and he has had great great great ball against me this year. I have won Ted Carter and Whitted. I have not lost a game since I have had him, and I have won a star. That is a gamble that must go with practice every trade."

Has to this are interested in Willie Stump, who, if he makes good, will be sent for Pittsburgh.

ALL-AMERICAN STAR OF GRID SOON TO BUCK THE HUN LINE

Albert Benbrook.

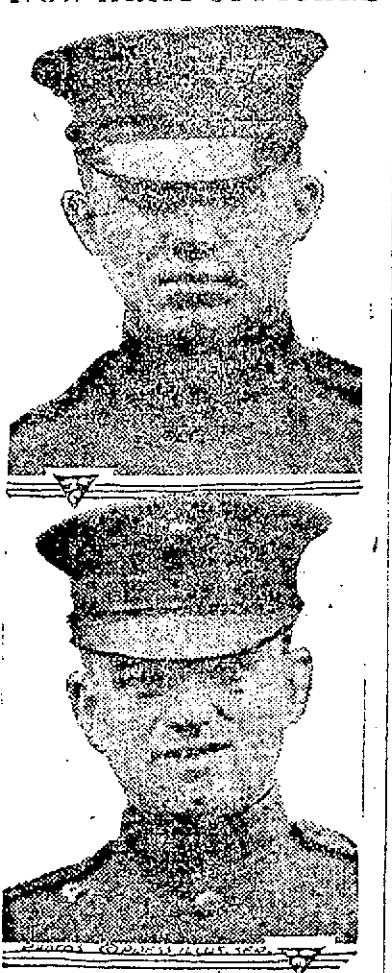

Al Benbrook, the old Michigan football star and regarded by many experts as the greatest guard ever developed in America, is soon to buck the Hun's line in the greatest game of all. Benbrook is now a lieutenant stationed at Camp Zachary Taylor.

Vean Gregg, the veteran southpaw, is working like a beaver to remain with the Athletics. Gregg hasn't been a regular major league pitcher since the Cleveland sold him to the Red Sox several years ago. He has warned the bench, or he has been farmed out to the minors. Gregg's transfer to the Athletics has made him extremely ambitious. He has informed Connie Mack that he would like to pitch three games a week in order to keep his wits in shape. With the Buffalo club last year Gregg led the International league with a record of twenty-one victories and nine defeats, also recording 249 strike outs.

The Cardinals have a young catcher named Denton. He is a powerful built youngster and may land a regular berth with the St. Louis club.

Stuffy McInnis is steadily improving as the regular third baseman of the Red Sox. In the practice games so far, he has made many brilliant plays in Larry Gardner's old place and, unless he suddenly slumps, he will help the former world's champion.

Those of you who have seen films in which a player taking two parts appears in those parts at one and the same time, in the same scene, will wonder how it is done. The player, of course, does not play both parts at once. He, or she, plays one part, and while doing so the camera operator, by one of his many tricks, keeps blank that portion of the film on which the player is photographed taking his other part. When that part in which he has played is finished the operator winds back the film to the beginning, and the unexposed blank portion is exposed for the first time, while the other part is covered. Then the player takes the other part.

Whitewater, April 5.—There is to be some lively doings here tomorrow afternoon when the third Liberty loan drive will commence. It has been arranged to blow all the whistles and ring all the bells, beginning at 2:30 p. m., and a parade of autos containing representatives of the different organizations of the city will start from the city hall, promptly for a trip about the city, ending at Hotel Walworth corner, where short speeches will be made by local men and women. The stores will close during the demonstration.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gray were in Chicago the first of the week to meet their son, Lieut. Lauriston Gray, en route from Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., to Minneapolis, Minn., where he is detailed as military instructor in the University of Minnesota.

Henry Coombs is critically ill with pneumonia at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Benson, at Cambridge.

Mrs. Chas. Blenfang spent Thursday in Janesville.

The funeral of George Fritts will be held this afternoon from the home. He was about 36 years of age and for years suffered from a mental affliction that was the result of an injury to his head, and had just been taken with another sick spell that caused him to take his life.

CONGRESS COMPLETES MOST EVENTFUL YEAR

ONE YEAR IN THE GREAT WAR HAS BROUGHT OUT ACTIVITIES UNEQUALLED IN AMERICAN PARLIAMENTARY ANNALS.

BREAK MANY RECORDS

Outlay of Money Appropriated and Expended Has Been Impressive. Two War Declarations.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.

Washington, April 5.—The congress of the United States will tomorrow round out the most eventful year in its history.

It has broken so many records that they defy complete enumeration. It has established the past year's place unequalled in American history in all American parliamentary annals.

It has appropriated money by the billions. It has levied taxes by the hundreds of millions. It has enacted measures of the most revolutionary and drastic character in American history. It has shot the past year's record for the most new courses reaching far into the future of American civilization.

The last year in congress may properly be divided into two distinct parts—first, that of prompt and unquestioning acquiescence in the administration's conduct of the war, and second, that of earnest and vigorous criticism of the war management. The former period occupied the large part of the session beginning on April 2, 1917, and ending on October 2, 1917. The latter period began immediately on the reconvening of congress in December and hasn't ended yet.

By a strange reversal of the situation, the pacifists who raised their voices against the war and war measures during the first period of the congress have virtually dropped out of sight in the second part, at least as under-keepers. They have been swallowed up in a general determination in both houses to back the war to the furthestmost limit of America's powers. Critics of policy have given way to critics of method. Critics for peace at any price have been drowned out by demands for winning the war at all costs.

Perhaps the most impressive thing about the year's record in congress has been the outlay of money. The grand total of outright appropriations, contracts authorized and loans made to America's allies now reaches beyond the $23,000,000,000 mark. Of this stupendous amount, more than $21,000,000,000 was appropriated and authorized expended in the first six months of the year. Seven billions went in loans to the allies. The remainder went largely to four main sources—ships, aircraft, the army and the navy. The necessity of congress extended the administration's spending ability, and since congress reconvened in December appropriations have been of a more nature compared to the previous eight months.

Two declarations of war within a year—that against Germany on April 6 and that against Austria-Hungary on December 7—also constitute a record in congressional history. In the matter of foreign affairs, the year in congress was also made responsible by the reception of the 1917 treaty sent by the United States from time to time by the allied governments.

No other congress has ever received so many personal visits from the president. Five times President Wilson has gone before congress assembled in joint session to address it upon war policy and legislation. Beginning with his first war address in April he appeared again on December 4 to urge a declaration of war against Austria. Then on January 4 to advocate the new railroad legislation, and on January 8 and February 1 to speak on terms of peace.

The most important of the war legislation enacted by the congress may be summed up with the following laws: The draft law, the espionage law, the food control law, the revenue law, and trading with the enemy act, the railroad bill and the war finance bill. The draft law was the first big piece of legislation following the declaration of war. After weeks of hard fighting, opposition led by advocates of voluntary military service, reinforced by the pacifists, was worn down and the draft law was passed by both houses by substantial majorities. On May 18 President Wilson signed the bill making 10,000,000 Americans liable to military service.

The espionage law was an omnibus measure including a dozen or so of important acts extending to the administration the broadest powers to deal with sedition, pro-Germanism, espionage and various other obstructions to the successful conduct of the war. It was hard fought because it included a provision granting the administration the most drastic powers to censor the press. This provision was stricken from the bill after weeks of stubborn contest and the bill was placed on the statute books on June 15.

The food control bill and the revenue bills kept congress, or rather the senate, busy throughout the summer. Senator Reed of Missouri led a determined fight against the food control bill, which established Herbert C. Hoover and Harry A. Garfield as the food and fuel administrators of the United States. After going through various processes of amendment, the bill was finally passed by the senate and was signed by the president on August 10.

The revenue bill, calculated to raise $2,500,000,000 to defray the war expenses, and reaching to the pocket of every man, woman and child in the country, met with bitter opposition from senators who demanded the conscription of wealth to pay for the war. Weeks of animated debate finally resulted in the passage of the bill with considerable amendments.

The trading with the enemy act, one of the most important of the war measures, laying down many principles to guide the relations of the United States with its enemies during the period of the war, was passed without prolonged debate just before congress adjourned in October.

Aside from the declaration of war against Austria, the most important acts of congress since reconvening in December have been the passage of the railroad bill, the adoption of the resolution submitting the national prohibition question to the states, and the series of investigations into the conduct of the war. The investigations, clinched by President Wilson's historic hawk with Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the senate military affairs committee, furnished the most spectacular aspect of the entire session.

BRINGING HOME THE TRUTH.

We see them every day,
To glance on them a moment
Then lightly cast away.

But this one held me spellbound—
Uncle Sam in some distress,
With a dead boy dressed in khaki
Lying pillowed on his breast.

He was coming with his burden
Through the dark and dreary room,
Bringing all that now remained
To the waiting ones at home.

I looked at Uncle Sam,
At the lighted dream of youth,
And upward to the headline,
Only bringing home the truth.

Then indeed the truth came home
As it never came to me
With all the tales of sorrow
From the lands beyond the sea.

And I cried can this be justice
That our boys are slaughtered so,
For the moment I rebelled,
And my shrinking heart said no.

Then I thought of History's pages,
Of the full names written there,
Who for their homes and loved ones
All this had bravely dared.

They who perished that their country
Go with freedom born endowed,
Shall this precious gift be wrested
By a tyrant from us now?

Nay, far better sleeping
With the ranks of murdered slain,
Than I cried, Oh boy in khaki,
You have died, but not in vain.

And may God the good time hasten,
Waiting heart and martyred youth,
When Uncle Sam in right triumphant
Brings us home a brighter truth.

ALLIES SHOULD USE OFFENSIVE TACTICS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, April 5.—Commander Carlyon Bellairs, M. P., who is regarded as something of an authority on naval matters in the house of commons, is of the opinion that the admiralty has relied far too much on defensive tactics in coping with the submarine menace.

"The happy position foreseen for us, next August, by Lord Jellicoe," he writes, "cannot be attained except by offensive tactics, which involve the principle that barres shall be laid in the sea to bar the exit of the German submarines, and all operations of German surface craft to clear a passage shall be prevented by the concentration of our own surface craft."

"The important thing to remember is that, in going and coming, German submarines do not move until surface craft have cleared a channel. To smash the operations of the German surface craft against a really scientific, as opposed to a haphazard barrage, is to smash the submarine menace. A defended barrier in the sea to a depth of 150 feet is perfectly feasible. No mining flotilla ought to be able to act in face of a concentrated and overwhelming naval force."

Consequently, if the British and American navies are as effective as the simple German mine, which was captured in the first week of the war, if we avail ourselves to the full of all the other details that go to form a barrage, such as nets, microphones and other devices, we may then say, with absolute conviction, that the submarine menace from the North Sea, Atlantic and Dardanelles will be smashed from the date when we have performed the delicate and balanced operation of completing some hundreds of miles of barrage and great concentrations of naval forces."

MUST PAY $288 FOR MAKING POOR CHEESE

Judge Grinnam Renders Decision in Favor of Defendant in Action of Reinhart vs. Farnice to Recover Wages.

Judge Grinnam rendered a decision yesterday afternoon in favor of the defendant in the action, Reinhart vs. Farnice, both of Rockville. The counter-claim of the defendant of $288.75 was allowed by the judge after much deliberation. Reinhart brought the suit to recover from Farnice wages which he said were due him for his services as cheese-maker. The defendant on the other hand entered a counter claim for the above amount on the grounds that the plaintiff had caused him that much damage by making a poor quality of cheese. May Lewis of Brodhead, through her attorney, T. S. Nolan, was granted a divorce from Wallace Lewis on the grounds of non-support. Winnifred Van Patten of Beloit, through her attorney, Judge John B. Clark, secured a decree of separation from Herbert Van Patten upon proving that her husband was a habitual drunkard. The Croak Brewing company was rendered judgment to the amount of $744.84 against Russell J. McKern and others of Beloit. H. W. Adams appeared for the plaintiff while the defendant was represented by Wolsey and Arnold. Read the classified ads.

Germany Loses 100,000 Men a Day

Not One of These is Scratched

Left to right—The Kaiser, Crown Prince, Prince Eitel Frederick, Prince Adalbert, Prince August, Prince Oscar and Prince Joachim.

While America hears of Germany's frightful losses in its desperate drive for a victory on the western front it may forget for a moment that there is one German family none of whose members have so much as been scratched. War is "good fun," the words of the Crown Prince, and so it may seem to these "divinely ordained" who may watch the slaughter of their massed troops, by the hundreds of thousands, from a place of safety.

OUR OWN AMERICAN BOYS ARE PLUNGING INTO THIS GREATEST STRUGGLE OF THE WORLD WAR

Motor lorries carrying American soldiers (above) toward the battle front near the Somme (below).

After one look at the picture above no one will doubt that our American boys are going into battle with the true American spirit. A Yankee fighter can be picked in any crowd and the boys in the picture above have "America" written all over them. Below is a view of the battlefield near the Somme, already a scene of the bitterest fighting and today the stage of the war's greatest battle.
